THIS DAY PUBLISHED. THE IMITATION OF CHRIST.

THE IMITATION OF CHRIST.

By Thomas A Kenpis.

With an Introductory Essay by Thomas Chalmers, D. D.
Edited by Howard Malcom, D. D. A new edition, with a LIFE OF FROMAS A KEMPIS.

By Dr. C. ULLMANN.

Author of "Reformers before the Reformation."
12mo., cloth. 85c.

The peculiar feature of this new edition is the NEW LIFE OF THOMAS A KEMPIS, by Dr. Ullmann. Born nearly five hundred years ago, Thomas a Kempis is almost unknown. He has even been regarded as a myth. Dr. Ullmann's Life dispels the darkness and ests him before the reader in the clear light of noon-day. The importance of this addition to the book may be estimated somewhat by the fact that while the memoir prefixed to a former American edition, and purporting to give all the authentic facts, is contained in less than two 18mo. pages, this Life extends to more than fifty 12mo. pages.

LONG CREDITS

LOW RATES OF INTEREST.

These Lands were granted by the Government to aid in the socstrection of this Railread, and include some of the richest and meet fartile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and meet fartile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago on the north-west extreme of the State; and as all the lands the within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, roady and choop means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands the area from the company of those points, and from thence to Exettern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, &c., afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

those purchasing the Company's lands was the control tools, and outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesaic prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest charged for these lates, will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash and ordinary industry to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required, an experienced person will accompany applicants to give information, add in selecting lands.

Circulars, containing numerous instances of successful fazaming, signed by respectable and well-known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railread lands throughout the State—also, the cost of fending price of cattle, expense of harvesting, the cost of fending price of cattle, expense of harvesting, etc., by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French, or German, addressed to JOHN WILSON, Land Commissioner of the Ulicole Central Railread Co., No. 52 Wholigan-av, Chicago, Illinois.

TWO MILLION OF ACRES

or the cultivation of Wheat, Indian Cora, &c.

Economy in entitivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illimois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down stumps grubbed or stone picked of, as it generally the case in cultivating new land in the elder States.
The first crep of Indian Cora, planted on the newly broken sot, sunsky recays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-tarned soc is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen with break one and a half to two scree per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for Corn or Wheat, at from $2 to $2.50 per acre. By judicious management the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of filinois ever the high-priced land in the Eastern and Middle States is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bitaminous Coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable facil. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at 41 50 to 45 per tun. Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in lows or Minnesota, should bear in mind that is do there of any value, along the water-courses and for many mines inland, have been disposed of; that for those located in the interior there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced in the interior there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced in the interior there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced in the interior there are no conveniences for transporting the produce of market would cost much more than the expense of entityating them, and hence flovernment lands show stuated, at $1.25 per acre, are not so good investments as the land of the Company at the prises flasch.

The same remarks hold good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebrasks, for although vescant lands may be found nearer the water courses, the distance to market to far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of these lands is varied either in wagons, or interrupted water communications, increases the expenses of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced prices of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fectility of the lands now offered for sale by this Commany, and their consequent yield over those of the Eastern and Middle Sintes, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cest of transportation
